In signal processing, oversampling is the process of sampling a signal at a sampling frequency significantly higher than the Nyquist rate. Theoretically, a bandwidth-limited signal can be perfectly reconstructed if sampled at the Nyquist rate or above it.

Box and Cox (1964) developed the transformation. Estimation of any Box-Cox parameters is by maximum likelihood. Box and Cox (1964) offered an example in which the data had the form of survival times but the underlying biological structure was of hazard rates, and the transformation identified this.

During the 1990s, my focus was almost entirely on analogue software, which became a priority (if not a panic) when it seemed, for a while, that analogue hardware might even be on its way out or, at the least, completely marginalized.

Introduction. Efforts to produce a human cell atlas are in their infancy, challenged in part by the fact that an adult human (70 kg) consists of a staggering $\hat{\wedge}$ 1/37 trillion cells (Bianconi et al., 2013).
