Biology is the natural science that studies life and living organisms, including their physical structure, chemical processes, molecular interactions, physiological mechanisms, development and evolution. Despite the complexity of the science, there are certain unifying concepts that consolidate it into a single, coherent field.

Microglia, the brain's primary immune sentinels, quickly regenerate and restore their population after an acute insult. Lihong Zhan, Li Gan and colleagues use lineage tracing to address the debate about the origin of repopulating microglia and describes the spatial and temporal characteristics of microglial regeneration.

1. Introduction Plant diseases cause major production and economic losses in agriculture and forestry. For example, soybean rust (a fungal disease in soybeans) has caused a significant economic loss and just by removing 20% of the infection, the farmers may benefit with an approximately 11 million-dollar profit (Roberts et al., 2006).
